Do you have a mentor or a sponsor? Do you know the difference or why it matters?

Come join us and learn from the best about how to find champions and fairy godparents to guide you through your career, why those relationships are invaluable and how to use those relationships effectively and do your mentors and sponsors proud. Your Oprah or Jessica Pearson is just around the corner.

Claire Bibby is a well-known innovator and disruptor in the in-house legal sector. Claire is a non-executive director of Marist180 and Australian Property Circles, an Executive Member of the Association of Corporate Counsel, an Entrepreneur Ambassador for Opportunity International, and a committee member of Soroptimist International, the NSW Law Society Futures Committee and the Resolution Institute.

Claire's name has graced numerous awards as one of Australia's best lawyers and female executives, including the "Excellence Award for Women in Law," "General Counsel of the Year," "Female Executive of the Year in Asia, Australia, New Zealand," and most recently, "Mentor of the Year."

Part and parcel with her passion for the law, Claire is an active philanthropist and public speaker on issues of innovation, diversity and inclusion, psychological wellness, developing high performing teams and women's leadership. Claire is also a mentor for Layne Beachley's "Aim for the Stars" foundation.

Loren Blumgart is a property and commercial lawyer working as Associate Legal Counsel at Brookfield Property Partners.

Loren is passionate about volunteering and is currently volunteering on the board of the Moriah Foundation. Loren is also passionate about mentoring, and is currently participating in the Law Society of NSW's Young Lawyers Mentorship Program and the Association of Corporate Counsel's Mentorship Program.
