

Seminar 1: Things I wish I had known – Tips, tricks & insider knowledge
1.45-8pm Thursday, 18 July 2019, Hall & Wilcox, Level 9, 60 Castlereagh St, Sydney

Ever wonder if you have missed the boat sometimes when colleagues are talking about their experiences and progression in law? Never fear! This session covers the things we all wish we had been told at Uni or when we started our first jobs as lawyers. We will discuss how to set yourself up for career progression, get an edge over your competition and be noticed by the people who will make decisions about your career. Practical tips and tricks from lawyers in practise. An opportunity to get answers to the burning questions you're afraid to ask!

Fay Calderone, Partner, Hall & Wilcox. Fay advises HR, C-Suite leaders and Boards on compliance with workplace laws, change management, business protection, workplace strategy, cultural diagnostics and dispute resolution. She has acted for employers for 18 years across a range of industries including health, professional services, entertainment, FMCG & general manufacturing, community sector and local councils.

Fay thrives on the insights gained from speaking at major industry events and is a regulator commentator on workplace issues in mainstream media and industry publications. She has served as Deputy Chair of Sport NSW and has been widely recognised for her achievements including by the NAB Women's Agenda Leadership Awards, the Lawyers Weekly Partner of the Year Awards & Women in Law Awards and NSW Women Lawyer's Association. This year Fay was featured in the Smart Company International Women's Day Campaign, Women Kind (a book authored by Catherine Fox and Dr Kirstin Ferguson), the 2019 edition of Best Lawyers and was a finalist for the highly prestigious AGS Australian Women Lawyers Award among prominent female figures in law including judges and barristers.

Sarah McCarthy, Barrister, 5 Wentworth Chambers. Prior to being called to the bar in 2018, Sarah worked as a solicitor for 8 years across both government and private sectors in Sydney and London. Sarah has a wide-ranging commercial practice, specialising in coronial inquiries, medical negligence and employment and industrial relations.

Sarah has considerable experience in multi-party litigation, acting for major insurers and government agencies, including sensitive litigation that is subject to media exposure. Sarah also specialises in International Child Protection law under the Hague Convention for the Civil Aspects of Child Abduction.

Jade Tyrrell, Associate, Carroll & O'Dea Lawyers Jade is a commercial and dispute resolution lawyer based in Sydney. Jade regularly acts in matters across numerous areas of law in both Federal and State courts including those involving employment and industrial law, property law, competition and consumer law, as well as general commercial disputes. She advises in various litigious and non-litigious matters involving individuals, unions, and corporate clients.

Prior to joining Carroll & O'Dea Lawyers, Jade was a paralegal during university, and spent two years as a commercial litigation lawyer before spending a year as tipstaff to the Honourable Justice Slattery in the Supreme Court of New South Wales. Her experience as a tipstaff provided Jade with invaluable exposure to court practice and procedure, advocacy and judicial reasoning. Jade then joined Carroll & O'Dea Lawyers and was promoted to Associate in 2018.
